

Privacy Notice

Introduction

ALS Training is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy and we comply with the Data Protection Act 2018 and General Data Protection Regulation 2016 (GDPR).

This privacy notice sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us. Please read the following carefully to understand our views and practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat it.

The following rules on processing of personal data are set out in the General Data Protection Regulation (the "GDPR")

Definitions

Data controller - A controller determines the purposes and means of processing personal data.

Data processor - A processor is responsible for processing personal data on behalf of a controller.

Data subject – Natural person

Categories of data: Personal data and special categories of personal data

Personal data - The GDPR applies to 'personal data' meaning any information relating to an identifiable person who can be directly or indirectly identified in particular by reference to an identifier.

Special categories personal data - The GDPR refers to sensitive personal data as 'special categories of personal data'. The special categories specifically include genetic data, and biometric data where processed to uniquely identify an individual. Other examples include racial and ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health data, trade union membership, political opinions and religious or philosophical beliefs.

Processing - means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means.

Third party - means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or body other than the data subject, controller, processor and persons who, under the direct authority of the controller or processor, are authorised to process personal data.

How we use the data we collect from you

ALS Training Ltd will be the Data Controller for the information at the point of collection. We process the personal data that you provide us in order to deliver the funded learning programme that you are about to enrol on. Taking part in this funded training programme is dependent on you providing personal data. The data you provide us with will be, where applicable, used by the Welsh Government (data controller for Welsh based learners) to carry out its public duty to administer and monitor the use of its funds.
